Describe Changed Religious-Spiritual Practices: Description of changes in religious/spiritual practices after their NDEs

This page contains 603 near-death experiences (NDEs) with narrative responses to the NDERF survey question in the title above.

Methodology:

Experiences were scored as NDEs if they met all of the following:

1. A lucid, organized experience occurring at the time of a life-threatening event so severe that there is unconsciousness or clinically apparent death with an absent heartbeat.
2. An NDE Scale score of 7 or higher.
3. Shared by the individual who personally had the NDE.
4. Shared in the English version of the NDERF survey.

These are NDEs from the most recent version of the NDERF survey (nderf.org). They are sequentially shared non-English NDEs shared from November 11, 2011 to April 8, 2021. All accounts were scored as NDEs if they met the above criteria and regardless of experience content to avoid bias in studying the content of the NDEs.

The NDEs posted on the NDERF website are edited to correct obvious spelling and grammar errors. As remarkable as the NDEs are in this list, please remember that they accurately represent the real experiences of near-death experiencers (NDErs) from all walks of life and around the world. NDErs that declined to have their experiences posted are excluded from this compilation.

This list is public domain and may be used by anyone.

Substantial efforts are made to minimize the risk of posting fraudulent NDE accounts on nderf.org:
<https://www.nderf.org/Hub/hmethodology.htm>

We strive for accuracy in this list. If any NDEs should not be included for any reason, please email us at nderf@nderf.org with the NDE registry number and URL. Thanks!

This is a compilation of responses to the NDERF survey question, “Did you have any changes in your values or beliefs after your experience that occurred as a result of the experience?” This was followed by a box for a narrative response asking “If yes or uncertain, please describe.” The ‘Describe Changed Values or Beliefs’ column below is the data from the NDERF survey without changing any spelling or grammar errors. Even a quick review of the NDEs below should demonstrate that there are varied and often substantial changes in the NDErs’ values and beliefs following their NDEs.

6102	John R NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1john_r_nde_6102.html	It really enhanced my beliefs in a larger universe.
6106	DW NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1dw_nde.html	I can't attend church without wanting to debate their beliefs, yet I know how they believe is just as valid as how I see life. It seems so hurtful and compelling good behavior by threatening punishment is NOT how I saw it there...we should WANT to love and care, not be forced or compelled into it...
6113	Stephen M NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1stephen_m_nde.html	I feel that there is more than just this life we are living. I think there nothing to fear in dying now.

6138	Rhonda C NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1rhonda_c_nde.html	I believe my being told the choice to come back was mine, is perhaps the greatest "freewill" choice that God has granted. I chose to come back. so am trying to make my life better. Be kinder, more compassionate, more loving. Embrace family. make amends with those I have lost along the way, tell others I love them. pass on more of what I felt in those moments.

6155	Erinn H NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1erinn_h_nde.html	i came to realize that god is more loving and caring than i could have ever imagined
6158	Marilyn R NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1marilyn_r_nde.html	Yes because I knew for sure that there was a heaven and a god and I made sure my family knew.
6159	Sue C NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1sue_c_nde.html	I value all life as if it is connected to me.
6160	Tony D NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1tony_d_nde_6160.html	Now I was certain there was God, but I was angry at Him.
6166	Jean R NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1jean_r_nde_6166.html	Accepting of all people and where they are in life. All of us are still learning and it is okay. It is okay to make mistakes and we do not need to, nor should we judge each other. Each one is doing what they must do to continue the learning and testing they were put here to do.
6167	Michael L NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1michael_l_nde.html	FOR 3 YEARS AFTER MY EXPERIENCE I WAS ANGRY WITH GOD FOR NOT TAKING ME "HOME"

6171	Jeanette F NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1jeanette_f_nde.html	At 15 I thought about other things, life not death. The experience put question marks over what happens to you when you die.

I spent 18 months believing I was dead and trapped in a horrible afterlife or I was in the hospital in a coma and everything was a terrible dream. Because of this mindset I took risks that I would not have taken otherwise. I was careless, defiant, morally corrupt and just not good to myself. I was great to other people but had no standards for myself. Once I realized I was alive, I made drastic changes, took responsibility for myself and moved on. Doctors say I suffered PTSD, but that does not explain the voices, faces and other paranormal things I experienced after this incident.

6308	Carole M NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1carole_m_nde.html	i am no longer a cynic on anything I believe anything is possible and will never judge people again.
6496	Carol M NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1carol_m_nde_6496.html	As a child, I didn't think much about death. It seemed like it would never happen to me. Yet I was somewhat fearful of it, and I was careful about certain things I had been told could kill you, like keep electrical cords away from water. I remember being taught that you went to heaven if you were good and you died, but I wasn't really sure if that was true or not. After my near death experience, I knew we didn't die. Only our bodies die.
6552	George J NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1george_j_nde.html	My own belief system was open to interpretation at a very young age. I believe this experience was significant in maturing me way beyond the age group I was in, thereby classifying me as "weird".

6205	Isabel R NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1isabel_r_nde.html	No one dies. We need to keep this in mind as we live. We can't make ourselves disappear, even if we wanted to. On the other hand, we are forgiven if we forgive ourselves and embrace love. But we will know eternally our own true face. I have read a lot of CS Lewis and especially The Great Divorce rings true with so much of what I think I came to know from my experience. Also his book "Till We Have Faces".

6233	Jenneane E NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1jenneane_e_nde.html	In 2009 I had a series of coincidences in seeing the same numbers repeating for 6 weeks. 11:11, 222, etc and I learned that it was a message of spiritual awakening. I learned that the Dominion angels are represented by gold and silver and they represent metal or conductors of metal. I found that out because on the periodic table of elements, gold is 11 down and 11 across and the Golden Age in our history is a key in discovering many truths. Metal can conduct through electricity and that is why they can send number messages to get our attention. I haven't figured out if it is a warning or if I see the numbers when I feel a strong love energy.

6259	Maggy C NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1maggy_c_nde.html	I was very young, but I was fearful attending church. I always felt that it was a place where people thought bad things about you. As an older child, I felt the lessons were there to incite fear so that people could be controlled. It annoyed me that other people were not questioning these things. I felt hurt at times, like as if someone was spreading nasty rumours about a friend. I felt that it was wrong to represent God as judgmental. As an adult, I look upon the church as a place for community development and good will. However, the acts of the people do not always reflect kindness and compassion.
6274	Jill J NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1jill_j_nde.html	I wasn't sure about religion prior to my NDE. I wasn't sure that the answers were all inside each of us. I have a fatal illness, but experienced a miraculous recovery. I haven't had a bad day since. Not a day I feel sorry for myself, fear death, worry...I just haven't had a bad day since my recollection of this experience.

I value all life, even that of insects (I no longer kill flies and spiders, I catch them and release them outside). Because I know that I came to earth for a purpose, I believe that others have too. I have developed more respect and love for people. I have developed an insatiable thirst for knowledge, how things work. I am most interested in energy, quantum physics, the zero point field, etc
6429	Gwen J NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1gwen_j_nde.html	I believe that we can heal ourselves, that we understand our body better than anyone else. I believe that we are not just a physical body, but an energetic and spiritual body. What happens on a spiritual and emotional level affects our physical body. If we are in balance in the spiritual and emotional bodies, then our physical body will be in health. If we are out of balance then the physical body will become diseased.

For instance, I was urged to take strong medication to control my heartbeat - was warned that I would need a pacemaker etc. - This I chose to ignore and let my body heal naturally over 6 years until my heart rate returned to almost normal - I figured I will be here for as long asregardless - therefore why take drugs that make you feel like a zombie and interfere with the flow of your spiritual life - so I didn't and took a calculated risk - quality of life and I am not incharge of the exit date any way so don't worry about it - just live healthy and be happy

So it is possible that this experience drove me to seek meaning and to become a reiki practitioner. The experience certainly opened me to the possibility of God and an afterlife. But since I did not see the Light that other NDErs report seeing, and since the changes in my belief system were so gradual, that in all honesty I don't really know if it was the experience that changed it or not.

However, the difficulty I have with that is that the word God in no way comes anywhere near doing what it is any justice. Science MUST evolve toward meditating on the quantum and metaphysical realm to grow. It is highly unbalanced toward logic and not inclusive enough of individual EXPERIENCE. Also, I had been hanging in the doorways of perception my whole life prior to my NDE, in limbo, with one foot in and the other out, attaching myself to numerous fears and excuses that kept me from completely breaking through. I finally walked all the way through those doors, faced the darkness, terrified and alone, like a long awaited death with each step forward. There's no other way out of the prison of our ego than to face its darkness head on. It takes an unbelievable amount of bravery, but worth every bit of pain a thousand fold. I awoke to warm bright light all around me, sunshine beaming from the inside out. A side of what I used to hold onto as 'me' has now died....and will continue to reshape itself in alignment with Source perspective a little more each day for the rest of my life. I can never return to that sleep state again... Whats left of me is love. Whats left of me is real... I'm lighter, clearer... more alive... more in sync with the true Robyn than ever before. The nameless, speechless all-knowing

			mass of sacred feminine energy that shines within me, connected to you and you and you and all that is... God(ess) can speak fluently through my voice now, loud and clear. Her voice is slow and glows with even more compassion, and heats up my chest when connecting in love. I know what rings true to me instantly now. I can't hide behind an expression, I can't lie in my words... especially not to myself. This is the meaning of liberation... true freedom from masked suffering that we all share in one way or another. I can fly higher, love deeper, sing louder... all of the 'bottled' emotions and negative feelings have now been shattered and creatively recycled into a mosaic of soulful art... all of my old wounds that hid behind the curtain have been spot-lit on the stage, I just watch them dance and sing their dark song, then I stand in ovation without any judgement in my heart. Ive stared my inner critic in the face, only to watch her burn beneath my magnifying glass, transmuting into golden ash... gently blowing it all away in the wind. I live in the world as a bright young child again, where everything is magic and magic is everything! The universe speaks to me in many languages and frequencies, every day, and I can finally comprehend the guidance. Love and beauty are everywhere, peace is inside of me through both extreme joy and extreme sorrow. Yes, In the midst of grief there is peace, in disappointment there is peace, in death and loss there is peace, in total humiliation there is peace, in what may seem like abandonment or murder, yes, there is still peace. This is the way life was meant to be lived, this is the one love that I've spent my whole life searching for externally, in a partner, in a career, in my travels. I know why I am here and what I've come to learn. I have no answers for another and I don't need them, I just trust in the present moment, in the eternal flow. I have always known that LOVE IS and I will continue to embody that love. This is where I am now... Welcoming new experiences of all kinds to paint this new canvas of my life, share all that I truly am, my unmasked self at one with the world. I have walked through the doors but I have not left the building... we are all in this together and I hope I can inspire others to join me here in this heaven on earth... some of you are already here <3 "If the doors of perception were cleansed everything would appear to man as it is, infinite." -William Blake

6896	Joan LH NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1joan_lh_nde.html	This was the most challenging part for me. I wanted very much to make my experience fit into the beliefs of my family and my Church - which were the center of my life. I got a Master's Degree to help people, within the Church, awaken to the LOVING God I had experienced, the same 'God' I believe Jesus was trying to get us to experience. It became clear, after 4 years of working as a woman in The Church that there would be no reconciling my beliefs. I left the Church - which was perhaps the MOST painful decision of my life. I did not do it until 25 years AFTER my NDE, because it was that painful.(I had explored New Thought a few years after my NDE because it felt more in alignment with my experience; however, my desire to remain part of my family - and The Church was more powerful than the desire to live my life - true to myself. It was part of my learning in this life.) It has been 5 years since I left the Church, for good, and I have discovered ME, my authentic self, in alignment with my NDE and living from that experience - regardless of who believes me or not, who approves of me, not. I am grateful to the University of Santa Monica - and The Loving for guiding me back to my Authentic Self.

6943	Linda S NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1linda_s_nde_6943.html	WE NEVER DIE...WE SHED OUR EARTHLY BODIES TO BECOME SPIRIT BODIES.
6956	Carla S NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1carla_s_nde.html	I had pretty much given up on myself. I had all the best intention. I was so ill that my functioning was a day to day drudgery. The experience jolted me out of that reality. I am as terrified as ever. However, today I am back out in the world. Cleaning up my act from years of disuse. I am learning determination again and applied focus in a new set of variables.
6975	Kathryn H NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1kathryn_h_nde.html	The change I had was that I am not fearful of death and I also feel much gratitude for having a life to live up until death.

6992	Yazmine S NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1yazmine_s_nde.html	Yes well I didn't want to be here anymore..I felt that everyone is just living a lie and I was frustrated that I couldn't do anything about it. I felt so alone. I tried to tell people to get into the light of joy but they wouldn't take me seriously so I gave up and honestly it's taking me a lifetime to figure out how to live here..I am such a headcase I had to learn to hide my true thoughts everywhere I go ..ha! but nowadays being older and a bit wiser I just laugh at myself and don't worry so much..I was quite suicidal until my forties..but always knew the work had to be done whilst in the body.

7054	Gillian M NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1gillian_m_nde.html	Don't "sweat the small stuff", because in the big scheme of things, much of our reality is "small stuff" and we are here to learn. Don't beat yourself (or others) up for mistakes. It isn't like we come here with an "Idiot's Guide to Earthly Living" or anything. We figure it out (or not) as we go along.

7155	Cali NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1cali_nde.html	I have become aware that when people are separated or estranged unnecessarily because of fights or disagreements it is a very terrible thing. My father and I did not get along that well until we made peace at the very end of his life. I think if I see him again it might be like this experience I had of seeing my mother. I will not be sure if it's him. I will not feel the strong emotions I would feel if I could hug him right now. I am worried that maybe passion stays here in the physical world. Maybe we have only agape after death. My husband has left me and gone back to his home country and I keep trying to stay in touch and remain close but he is rebuffing my attempts. He is older. If I outlive him I will be thinking of all the days we could have had together. If I see him again after one of us is gone, will I still love him romantically? It worries me. I think this experience of seeing my mother and feeling that it probably wasn't her, but my memory of her has

I have no certainty that if there is an afterlife, we will see our loved ones again, or we will exist as individuals still, or we will have any sort of love that is like worldly family and friends relationships in life. Some Christians do NOT see Jesus, no one ever sees Muhammad (saws), which makes sense, since worshipping God/Allah, is NOT about a man or person or created thing. I also believed in a male looking god figure that I no longer believe. I'm not sure what god is other than I know it is love...now is there something greater that is creating the love that I felt...possibly or perhaps it is a collective love formed by all the souls of us people. So where most of my other questions got answers, this answer has turned to a question. Only difference is I don't fret it... if there is a being creating the love well the being must be love to create such love so I have no fear of it.

I get emotionally thrilled and cry in joy for people who pass away. My father died in 1993 from a massive heart attack. I knew the moment he left his body, even though he still had a heartbeat for another 45 minutes. I spoke to him above me and waved goodbye up to the ceiling. I told hi before he departed, to know that I would care for mom, have a wonderful journey, and I'll see him again on the other side. His face became relaxed and no pain once he departed. 8911	Dr. Dennis M NDE	https://www.nderf.org/Experiences/1dennis_m_nde.html	Well...I don't think I was in Heaven... No... I firmly believe that I was on an Intelligent Piloted Space Craft or perhaps an Interdimensional Spiritual Place and Time. All I know for sure is that I was in a Real Place that had substance to my surroundings and had a hard texture floor and walls to the room. The Tall Person that was talking to me without speaking, may have been my Guarding Angel, or an Extraterrestrial... Or perhaps One in the Same. I do feel in my heart that whomever He was, He absolutely cared Very Much about Me and my Soul; I felt this much for sure. And I also know that...I Now have a VERY SPECIAL PERSONAL RELATIONSHIP with God and those Entities that were there with me now in my life... Even Multitudes More Than before, as I was raised as a Catholic, and survived seven grades of Parochial School. I wanted so much to go to that Bright Beautiful Light...but, I was not allowed to transcend into the realm of absolute Happiness and Content...At least for now! I know not what I am to do, or why I was sent back to this Earthly Dimension... But, I do know that someone has protected me from complete death for all of my life for some reason. Because just two years earlier to the Date... I was shot down the Third Time in the Viet Nam War flying in a CH-46 Helicopter, and I was the ONLY Survivor out of 9 other Marine Souls that were KIA in that Crash... Also... I have survived two Civilian Aircraft Crashes... I have survived six Car Crashes!!! WHY??? I have no idea... But, I know that one day... I shall know and see the reason!

In fact, I have so many beliefs that have come about because of this experience, that I've written a book incorporating them. It's a story that weaves my beliefs of how I think the world works into it. It's called '20/20 Perfect Vision.' I believe we create our own reality, that we have helpers to help us, that we have inner and higher selves, that there is nothing more important than our personal relationship with everything we encounter - be it a stone or a person or a flower, that we have the ability to change the world for the better with every breath we take. And that there is a very important life to be lived after life is done here - which will be the subject of my next book!
